

Team building days

Big Beat team building days encourage communication between individuals and groups through the medium of drumming, percussion and problem solving puzzles.

By working effectively in teams, staff benefit by being able to explore their creative side, be challenged and develop new skills. Team building is also a great way to improve staff morale and to have fun!

Big Beat can provide and deliver full or half day packages that we can adapt to your needs, helping you organise time whilst keeping it cost effective.

Take a look at a sample of what we can offer below:

Ice-breakers in a box

- Get your cogs turning with our unique Ice-breaker box, containing team problem solving exercises in the form of puzzles (of varying difficulty) and exciting games! This encourages group engagement and (something here) that result in effective solutions adding value to the time you spend together as a team.

Musical exploration

A three-step package combining:

1. An array of world percussion instruments, which staff are encouraged to explore
2. Followed by the Boomwhacker experience, working in small groups having the opportunity to compose their own piece of music.
3. Finishing with Samba drumming creating a vibrant finale where they all work together.

Experiential learning

- ...and of course everything learned in the course of the day is perfectly transitional into the class room, enabling the staff to add a new dimension to their skill set.
