Junk Funk

One amazing way to unite children and adults in 1 hour

Dustbins, car wheels, drain pipes, scrap metal... to many, that's just a bunch of junk, but to us, it's an industry of sound. Welcome to Junk Funk, using our rubbish and making you look at everyday stuff in a completely different way. The Junk Funk is an amazing musical journey with inanimate objects and junk used to tread new boundaries in music making. Nothing is spared in this recycling excursion. One persons rubbish is another's performance!

The Junk

- Drainpipes: u-bends really do make for an interesting resonance when played with foam bats
- Car Wheels: a wheely good metal sound can be thrashed out on old car wheels
- Metal bins: the funky bin offers anything but a rubbish sound; when struck with broom handles, the clatter of metal provides the driving hum for the whole group

The Outcome

Big Beat guarantees a whole lot of noise, fun and oodles of energy!

After an unbelievably short time, a fantastic Junk orchestra is created from nothing (literally). Funk Junk delivers on its promise by leaving participants happy, energized and completely engaged. There's nothing quite like learning the art of communication through music.
